Abstract and Paper	Indian Society of Labour Economics was founded in 1957 by a distinguished group of academicians and public intellectuals engaged in promoting the study of labour and industrial relations. The group was headed by the ex- President of India Shri V.V. Giri and comprised of some of the biggest names in academia.
	Over the years ISLE has organised and hosted several workshops, seminars and training programmes to this end – the most prominant of these, the ISLE Annual conference has been held in an unbroken chain for the last 60 years. ISLE also brings out the much respected Indian Journal of Labour Economics and brings out numerous other publications related to the study of Labour Economics.
	The Indian Society of Labour Economics'(ISLE) annual conference is a unique occasion of bonhomie, camaraderie and sharing of knowledge and experiences, which all the members of the Society eagerly look forward to. In addition to the members, the Conference also attracts a large number of other distinguished academicians, representatives
